The gods busy work up storms about us.
That give mankind occasion to exert

DR. STRAYER WILL TALK ON EDUCATION

President of National Association to Be Guest of Tulsa at Banquet Monday Night.

Dr. George D. Strayer, president of the National Educational association, will be the speaker at a banquet at the high school cafeteria at 6:30 Monday evening.

His address will be inspirational on behalf of the bill now before congress creating a department of education corresponding to the department of labor, agriculture, etc., and providing for the election of a national secretary. This bill carries an appropriation of $100,000 which is designed to be distributed through out the various school districts of the country, the allotment to each district to be determined by the population, number of teachers employed, the number of foreigners and the percentage of illiteracy in each.

The definite purpose of this appropriation is for the Americanization of foreigners, the removal of illiteracy, the training of special teachers for vocational and civic education. It is estimated that from this appropriation Oklahoma would receive $2,000,000 out of which the funds of normal school districts would be supplemented to provide for a full term of six months each year, and the balance would be used to provide needed facilities in the various other districts.

Members of the several civic organizations of the city, as well as other representative and interested citizens will attend the banquet and it is planned to also consider the proposed school bond issue at that time.

Doctor Strayer, during the war, was chairman of a committee appointed to look after the emergency existing because of the lack of educational facilities.

TO SELL WHEAT TO KEEP PRICES OF FLOUR DOWN

NEW YORK, March 7.—The United States food administration grain corporation announced tonight that on March 15 it will begin sale of its surplus wheat holdings in an effort to prevent an increase in flour prices.

Julius H. Barnes, president of the corporation, said the department of agriculture report issued today, indicated that "contrary to public opinion, the crop of 1918 will provide no more than sufficient to meet our home needs and the foreign requirements falling upon us," and added that already mills were experiencing such difficulty in obtaining wheat for milling that they were offering as high as 10 to 15 cents a bushel above the government's guaranteed price to the farmers.

"The grain corporation," he said, "by using part of its accumulated stock for resale to the United States hopes to relieve the public from any material advance in the price of flour."

The government wheat, Mr. Barnes said, will be offered for sale on and after March 15 at such milling centers as Duluth, Kansas City, Chicago and St. Louis on the basis of cost plus accumulated charges.

Appeals to United States to Help Re-establish Peasants of France

NEW YORK, March 7.—Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt has signed an appeal to Americans to help re-establish the war-torn peasants of France.

Through the generous influence, a society under the patronage of Mme. de Lily wife of the French high commissioner in the United States, an American may start a peasant family on the road to prosperity again by furnishing the home the society will build for the peasant and supplying the small animals and seeds he must have to start life anew.

Or if the contributor's means are less ample, he may simply furnish the home.

A brass plate bearing the name of the donor will be placed over each of these new homes. Mme. de Lily promises that every giver will receive direct news of what his or her generosity has accomplished. Mrs. Vanderbilt describes the value of the brass plate in this way:

"Thus not only would the visible link between the donor and the peasant family be maintained, but often on a winter evening the flicker of the fame, suddenly lighting up that plate and the name written on it, the thoughts of the grateful hearts clustering around the fire will wander across space to that once happy home, now so closely united to their own, and thus perhaps the wave of good will, surmounting silence and ignorance and all obstacles of difference, will go far to carry along the peace of the world and quench the fires of destruction and envy ever ready to burst forth."

The two forms of direct and immediate relief desired by the society are described by Mrs. Vanderbilt thus:

First—Contributions of $200, each of which will be sufficient to start one small peasant family. The government of the society will give the house. The subscription will furnish it and provide a small stock of linen, small animals and seeds.

Second—Contributions of $50. Each of these will furnish simply but sufficiently one of the little houses. Official figures show that 450,000 homes have been destroyed. Mrs. Vanderbilt says, and from 900,000 to 1,000,000 persons made refugees.

"Today the world looks to us, America, for help, and there are many who believe in giving that help, for we are all helping and educating ourselves," Mrs. Vanderbilt says.

"That is why I feel that in answering this call that has come to me, the call of immediate and urgent distress, I am meeting both a crying need on the one part and an ardent wish on the other. May this message and appeal find the way to many a heart."

Mrs. Vanderbilt has announced that she will return to France soon to return her work of relief, for which she has already received a gold medal from the French foreign office. At the outbreak of the war in 1914 she turned her French home into a hospital. She has taken an active part in hospital and relief work in addition to contributing heavily to relief funds. Mrs. Vanderbilt is honorary president of the American committee of the Vestaire des Blessés.
